Courte Oreilles Lakes Association (COLA)

In the early 1960's, the Lac Courte Oreilles Protective Association was formed by concerned property owners to respond to changes in water quality. In 1995, COLA was officially established as a non-profit organization.

COLA works in close partnership with the Lac Courte Oreilles tribe. It also maintains working relationships with the Wisconsin DNR as well as other environmental, state, and federal entities.

Water quality advocacy has always been COLA's primary focus. Planning for the future and the inevitability of change is COLA's reality today.
